WELCOME

Welcome to the 5th annual MagicFest!

When you start a new event, as we did with MagicFest not too long ago, you never know if it will take off. We waded into the busy Edinburgh festival market aiming to get live magic in front of the public and to find acts that didn't just amaze but also excited and inspired people. We're proud to announce that last year over 5000 people opened up to magic, our busiest year to date, so this year the festival has grown, mirroring the interest and support you've given us.

Since its conception MagicFest has produced some of the largest magic events in the UK, been asked to consult for the National Theatre of Scotland, broken a Guinness World Record and put together a series of shows and workshops as part of the celebration of Shakespeare's birthday at the Globe Theatre in London. We continue to look for and develop amazing, magical events and exhibitions.

As always this year's festival opens with the Gala Show - it's the most diverse yet, with performers from six different countries on one stage. The winner of the Great Lafayette Award (closely guarded secret) is a legend in the magic world and I'm very excited to meet him and introduce him to an Edinburgh audience. Keep an eye out for author and psychologist Professor Richard Wiseman who will take you behind the magic. And we also invite you to a brand new treasure hunt event 'Tower of Illusion' at the astonishing Camera Obscura. Finally check out our new venue, Adam House Theatre, for some very intriguing new shows.

I'm really looking forward to a wonderful fifth year.

Lauriston Castle

£20 /£18 conc

Duration: 75mins Ages 10+

On the outskirts of Edinburgh, hidden away at the end of a winding driveway, behind a walled garden, lies one of Edinburgh's secret castles. Preserved in a early 1900s time-warp, Lauriston Castle remains in the exact state its last human owner left it. Timeless tapestries, ornate silverware, but also a world of clandestine laboratories, hidden passages and secret rooms...

A sell-out in 2013, this event features three of the finest Scottish magicians, as they animate the castle's intriguing past with stories, performances and illusions related to the history of Lauriston. What mysteries does this wonderful castle conceal? Find your answer inside "The Secret Room". With Lewis Barlow, Jody Grieg and Drew McAdam.
