

Royal Highland Show 2020 Cancelled

It is with deep regret and huge disappointment that we confirm the cancellation of the 2020 Royal Highland Show. The show is Scotland's largest outdoor event attracting up to 200,000 people each year and is the premier showcase for the food, farming and rural industry. Given recent and ongoing developments, this is the only course of action open to us.

Ticket holders should contact the RHS' ticketing partner, Ticketmaster, via your Ticketmaster account via www.ticketmaster.co.uk

Tradestands, Livestock Exhibitors and Sponsors should contact your usual key contact or by email on: feedback@rhass.org.uk

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our Members, customers and partners for their continued support and wish you all the best throughout this challenging time.

We hope to see you all again in 2021 for the next Royal Highland Show!
